

Our Vision

We believe there is hope for this world because Christ has suffered and died for it. In light of this hope, we believe First Presbyterian Church offers an environment where each individual's dignity is respected, where an individual is allowed to think through his or her faith in an atmosphere open to new ideas and opinions, but which holds true to a sustaining faith in Christ as Lord and Savior.

We seek to be open and receptive to those looking for a stable religious setting in which to find peace, comfort, and hope. We also seek to reach out to and serve the community around us, reaching children as well as adults with programs expressing the grace and mercy of God, in keeping with Christ's command.
